

LEADERSHIP ASSEMBLY 2009

Call for Presenters

Has your planned giving council...

Offered programs or services that are unique in your community

- mentored newcomers to the field
- sponsored awards to honor best practices in philanthropic planning
- engaged the community's most senior planning experts

Formed productive partnerships

- opened new channels of communication
- cooperated with related organizations
- attracted new sponsors

Effectively updated your council's name and brand

- raised public visibility of your council and/or philanthropic planning
- increased leader/member involvement through rebranding efforts
- attracted new target groups to membership

Improved your council's governance and/or administrative functions

- cultivated new council leaders and managed a smooth leadership transition
- implemented strategic plans to achieve council goals
- worked productively with your council administrator

We invite you to share your council's success stories at the Leadership Assembly.

Planned giving council leaders from across the country will attend the Assembly to learn about programs, policies and best practices that are helping other councils succeed. Assembly programming includes multi-council panels and single council presentations. Whether your council is large or small, old or new (or somewhere in between), you'll find peers at the Assembly who are eager to learn from your experience. Please respond to our Assembly Call for Presenters, and offer other council leaders the benefit of your experience.

Please submit this form no later than May 1, indicating any areas in which your council could participate. Do not hit reply to this message to submit the form; instead, please forward or clip this form into a new message addressed to Barbara Yeager at byeager@pppnet.org. We will notify you no later than May 16 if your attendee(s) are selected to participate.
